What's up from IAAS Colombia

January 2021

Greetings from IAAS Colombia

Hello! Greetings from IAAS Colombia.

Our academic calendar this year starts late, only until March we will start classes but nevertheless our committee is active from the beginning of the year in order to get ahead of the upcoming activities. We start by making a distribution of our members in each of the committees, in order to take advantage of each of their abilities and perform in the best way in specific activities. On the other hand we regret to say that the number of our members has decreased to 30 due to several situations. We have planned a large call for new members, both from our university, and from new universities in order to create local committees.

A warm greeting from the Colombian coast,

Yessenia Martinez
National Director of IAAS Colombia

What's up from IAAS Ecuador

January 2021

Greetings from IAAS Ecuador

Hello a fraternal greeting from Ecuador

The IAAS Ecuador committee began the year with pending activities that were not carried out in December, due to the vacations that many of the members took to reunite with their families. We work on donation delivery activities, trainings and we deliver a gift to our members.

There are still restrictions due to the pandemic, so we continue to adhere to the biosecurity measures of our country.

A hug

Viviana Salgado,
National Director of IAAS Ecuador

Delivery of Donations

3rd January 2021, Oton, Ecuador

This activity was very beautiful to be able to help children with different school supplies and gifts for Christmas. During the month of December, a campaign was carried out with the objective of collecting donations of school supplies and toys with the members of IAAS Ecuador to donate to low-income children, and bags of sweets were assembled as a tradition of Christmas gift. Everything was delivered in the Oton community where we were able to make many children happy.

Delivery of Gifts to Members of IAAS Ecuador

6th – 7th January 2021, Quito, Ecuador

December is a date that unites many families and expresses the affection and appreciation that one feels, that is why we organized a small gift of a mask with the IAAS Ecuador logo and a bag of candies for the members who contributed to growth of the committee in 2020 and it was so satisfying to know their enthusiasm and love. We attach some photos of members who received the gift.

Webinar Loses The Scenic Fear

16th January 2021, Online (Zoom)

Continuing with some planned soft skills training, it was decided to continue with a very important topic such as development in public, such as the modulation of the voice and losing the fear of expressing oneself in front of a spectator. Thus, IAAS members were able to actively participate and learn about how to improve and implement different development techniques in their profession area.

Introduction from IAAS National Committee

January 2021, Online (Zoom)

Hello Everyone,

Receive a cordial greetings from Guatemala. Our Academic Cycle begins at the beginning of January. It is when we resume activities, in the local committees and the national committee.

Carry out a roll call to find out if we have the support of the old members and make the corresponding elections in each committee and make the election of the board of directors of the country's national board.

Due to pandemic, all of our activities were carried out virtually. May be it was not the way we wanted to start the year but it is what you have to work. Our first event of the year was the national meeting, with a series of conferences on agroforestry issues activity finished. Nominations were made for the new board of directors of the country and also the election. Giving as a result the following:

- National Director: Walter Adolfo Folgar Palma
- Project Coordinator: Alicia Elena Eufragio Blanco
- Foreign Relations Coordinator: Douglas Omar Elvira Estrada

What's up from IAAS Mexico

January 2021

Greetings from IAAS Mexico

National board of IAAS Mexico 2021

Dear IAASer,

It is with great privilege and honor that I address to you for the very first time as a member of the new National Board of IAAS Mexico. January of 2021 has brought many changes and hope for the future all over the World. The winter break is a very important time for us as a country, it is a time where we spend cherished moments with our family and friends remembering the good things from the year that has left and daydreaming about the one that has just begun.

Despite the COVID-19 pandemic, we are very happy to announce that the biggest and most important event for the region of IAAS America took place during the last week of January and the first week of January: the DMA 2021. An event dedicated to Agrotechnology and Sustainability within the America's, where many of our members participated actively throughout the entire event as attendees and some of them as part of the organizing committee for this virtual edition of the DMA.

We are very thankful for all the support and effort of every single member that selflessly has created magical events to maintain IAAS strong and growing regardless of all the hardships and challenges. We look forward to counting with your presence in our events and do not forget to Go Further, Go IAAS!!!

Yours truly,

Pablo de Caso Udave
National Director of IAAS Mexico

National Elections

23rd January 2021, Online (Zoom)

The national board of 2019-2020 called out for elections at the beginning of January and based on 1st round of applications, the 23rd of January was conveyed as a suitable date to carry on with the elections. There was a total of 7 applicants for the following positions: National Director, Exchange Coordinator, External Relations Coordinator, Projects Coordinator and Control Board. With presentations of 10-15 minutes per applicant, 30 minutes for Qs & As of and a final space of 15 minutes for voting gave the following members the opportunity to represent IAAS Mexico:

- National Director: Pablo de Caso Udave
- Exchange Coordinator: Valentina Alejandra Berrios Ávila
- External Relations Coordinator: Jael Graciela Rosales Gaona
- Projects Coordinator: Mairim Elizabeth Arellano Figueroa
- Control Board: Saraí Vega Cuevas

During the DMA 2019 in Costa Rica, Mexico was selected to be the host for the 2021 edition. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 pandemic broke out and it was impossible to celebrate this event in the traditional way that it has been done for many years. So, together with the approval of the Regional Board and the other National Boards, an online and collaborative DMA was possible. Bringing lectures and workshops from a wide range of disciplines, but all of them aligned to the International Association of Students in Agricultural and Related Sciences main vision and goal of the event. This motto was "Agrotechnology and Sustainability within the agri food sector of America". IAAS Mexico participated actively both as organizing committee and attendees, having a total of 48 members involved throughout the entire event. In this event, a Regional Board is chosen as well, and we gladly inform that 2 of our members form part of the current RB for the period 2021, those are:

- Regional Exchange Coordinator: Saraí Vega Cuevas
- Regional Finance Coordinator: Joel Alberto Limones Rivera

Greetings from IAAS Netherlands

Greetings from IAAS Netherlands!

We had a good start to the new year by having three online meetings with our committee where we welcomed our new members! As a committee, we now also host online social meetups once a month on Sunday evenings to bring our members closely together. We try to make the best of these difficult times to stay connected.

This month was also very exciting for us as being involved in the organization of the Youth Pre-event to the CAS 2021. We made great experiences during this huge and successful event and wish to build on this success in the future by strengthening collaboration with our university and other international organizations that we are in touch with. We have formulated a call to action which we have shared with our network.

Thomas has started a Think Tank on Climate Smart Agriculture as an event follow-up which has started its work now, and you might get the chance to become a member soon, too.

We wish to congratulate Thomas for being the new treasurer of IAAS Netherlands.

As we are starting up with our activities again, stay tuned for our January newsletter and follow us on Facebook!

Cheers!

Being a member of IAAS was the right choice for my life. IAAS is not only a family and place to develop myself but also a place to contribute to society in Agriculture and Related Sciences.

IAAS has very useful programs in my Local Committee such as Tractor Learning, Language Training, Exchanges, VCP, and many more.

With dozens of countries as members of IAAS and tens of thousands of active members, making this organization the right place to share information and open broad insights.

Daniel Eka F.

I learned a lot about how to do an orchid business, but the most important thing I found during the National Exchange Program was family.

Thank you IAAS Indonesia for making an event as cool as this, which can strengthen the brotherhood and kinship of fellow agricultural students.

Kamiar Torabi

A lot of people (including me) often ask me why I invest so much time and effort in IAAS. They are right that being a member of the Executive Board demands sacrifices

Nevertheless whenever I look back at my time in IAAS, I understand that no single action or moment of commitment was wasted. My IAAS experience has made me the man I am today.

Transforming me from being locked in a closed vision to having an amazing view over the world from the top of mountain. That is why every step forward and initiative made for IAAS, is definitely worth it.

Sagar Paudel

The self-exploratory journey of IAAS has gratified me with leadership, technical and soft skills that serve us for a long time.

The idealistic approach of IAAS will fuel our motivation to continue to do a great job. IAAS culture and system inspires me to create a wonderful place with endless opportunities for learning and working.

Lucie Benoist

During our exchange week, we organized a number of visits to local producers, we've learned a lot of exciting details about their work and had a lot of fun at tasting.

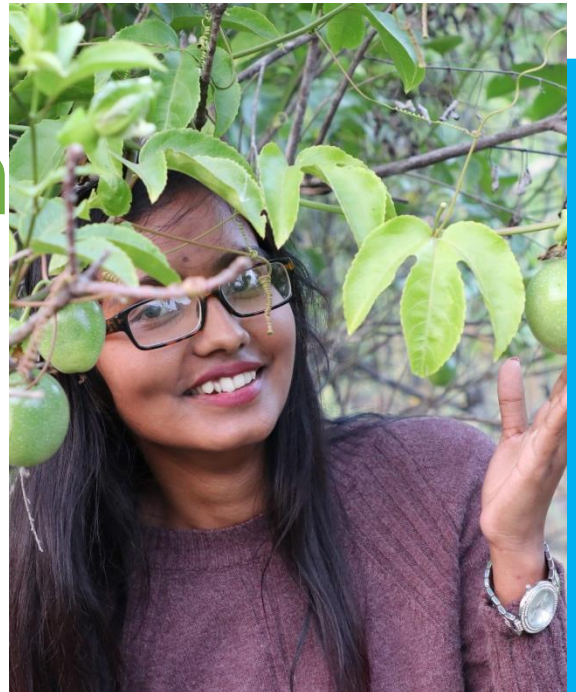

I loved meeting people from foreign countries and talking to them about our differences in culture, games and food. It was fun and rewarding.

The idealistic approach of IAAS will fuel our motivation to continue to do a great job. IAAS culture and system inspires me to create a wonderful place with endless opportunities for learning and working.

Although this year has included some really sad events, I'm beyond grateful to still be here.

After the truly unpredictable series of events this year, I've been convinced that worrying or anticipating the future is not worth it.

Mushike Saisri

IAAS was the forum for me to learn more about myself and to explore it. My strengths and weaknesses have been analyzed. I've focused on my weakness and tried to be a better person.

I have gained a huge knowledge of different fields of science from the ITC sessions and other training. Thank you IAAS for making me believe myself.

There are 3 things to break the borders of the world: Passport, Visa, and, IAAS. IAAS is bringing the world to me, opening my eyes to the importance of agriculture as the backbone of life, and making me learn the realities of different people from different parts of the globe to build relation.

In IAAS, I've dared to be open to manage things, to communicate ideas, be competitive, and to remain me until my highest goals have been achieved. A lot of things change over those years.

Years after years, people after people, challenges, and challenges, IAAS made me realize that the only thing in the world is change. IAAS has prepared me to be ready and even to be accustomed to facing a dynamic world. Become a brave quick-resolver.

Being part of IAAS is an exciting and rewarding experience that has helped me grow personally and professionally because I have been able to meet a lot of people from different countries and share not only /common knowledge and interests but also make great friends.

Being part of the Global Quality Board IAAS World is a challenge that I have taken on to get out of my comfort zone and be able to show myself that I am capable of great things

I can only say thanks to all the wonderful IAAS team for the learning and experience they give me everyday

Safira Nurul I.

Learning about coffee plantation was the best thing I've done in my hosting place, Kopi Selir Semarang. We cultivated and harvested several commodities of coffee such as arabica, robusta, and liberica

Learn from the expert make me more curious about agriculture, especially in a coffee plantation. Not only in the agriculture field, but we also build connections with other friends from other backgrounds

Rifa Naziiah

I joined IAAS Indonesia Exchange Program National in July 2019. At that time, I was in PPU (Pramana Pangan Utama) located in Bogor (hosted by IAAS LC IPB).

Since my background is in Animal Science, I'm so happy to have that experience! Because PPU is a modern abattoir, and to be true, I've a lot of experience for 2 weeks.

And it is not only to have experience based on my background. I also got new FamillAAS during my internship, and guess what? Until today, we're still in contact. Thank you Expronas!
