1. DAY OF THE AGRONOMIST

26th of February 2021 (Online, Zoom)

Written by: Pablo de Caso Udave

On this event, we commemorated the very foundation and reason behind the celebration for the Day of the Agronomist in Mexico. This was done by presenting the history of the two universities where IAAS has a presence in Mexico. Afterwards, we had a panel titled “Food Security in Mexico” with 2 representatives from these universities, which were: Ph.D. Diana América Reyna Izaguirre (Universidad Autónoma Chapingo) and M. Sc. Eduardo Morales Osornio (Tec de Monterrey). We ended the event with a discussion between the attendees from the local committees and the invited students from other universities which have agronomy students. We hope that, thanks to this event, these students get motivated to start a local committee within their own university.

2. ELECTIONS ON THE LOCAL COMMITTEE OF IAAS CHAPINGO

27th of February 2021 (Online, Zoom)

Written by: Pablo de Caso Udave

The event was held virtually due to the COVID-19 pandemic. A brief welcoming in charge of the 2020 IAAS Chapingo board served as an opening. Afterwards, candidates proceeded to present their workplans. Once the presentations were finished voting process was held and, based on the results, we are very happy to inform about the IAAS members that form the new board which will lead and manage this local committee of throughout 2021:

- Local Director: Zaida Abigail Méndez Romero
- Local Exchange Coordinator: José Alejandro Hernández Salazar
- Local External Relations Coordinator: Rosa María Márquez Pérez
- Local Projects Coordinator: Zyanya Jazmín Castro Pérez
- Local Finance Coordinator: David Zarinaña Arizmendi
- Local Communication Coordinator: Miguel Ángel Cabrera Pablo

You can find out more about their activities and events on Instagram: @iaas_chapingo

Dear IAASer,

It is a pleasure to address you once again on behalf of the national committee of IAAS Mexico. In this edition, I will share with you 2 activities that were carried out during this month. Before this, I would like to share with you why February is so important for us.

On February 22nd of 1854 the first university dedicated to agriculture, the ENA (Escuela Nacional de Agricultura), was founded in our country. From that day on, the 22nd of February has been settled as a date to celebrate and commemorate the importance of our profession. Besides this important historical fact, February is the month when most of the Mexican universities go back to classes after the winter break. Both universities where IAAS has local committees, Tec de Monterrey and Universidad Autónoma Chapingo, are no exception for that.

Without further ado IAAS Mexico says farewell until March, when spring comes to us. We hope that you find this newsletter enriching and that you and your dear ones are keeping safe.

Yours truly,

Pablo de Caso Udave
National Director of IAAS Mexico

GREETINGS

Hello from IAAS Greece,

February was a month full of meetings, calls and email responding. The webinar planning demanded weekly meetings that later became daily. The team consists of 12 people organizing and communicating in order for the webinar to be successful and full of knowledge. We reached out to professors from our universities, who are experts in our webinar topic “Precision Agriculture” and were very happy and willing to collaborate with us and bring this webinar to life.

The academic background of this event is of much importance to us, as we want to reach out to the scientific side of the topic. Thankfully the team spirit and motivation is high and any difficulty that comes in our way does not let us down but on the contrary makes us stronger as partners.

Best wishes,
Rika
National Director of IAAS Greece

WEEKLY WEBINAR MEETING

20th of February 2021 (Online, Zoom)
Written by: Rika

Here we are in our weekly meeting discussing about the webinar, assigning jobs and talking about everyone's progress.

Even though the workload was huge, the smile from our faces never left and in these meetings we were also hanging out as friends which is very important for our motivation. Can not wait to see how the webinar will turn out!

GREETINGS

Dear IAASer,

It is a pleasure to address you once again on behalf of the national committee of IAAS Turkey. In this edition, I will share with you the activities that were carried out during this month.

Currently, I am leading in my country as the National Director of IAAS Turkey that can be considered freshly founded, and region that we are part of, as the Regional Director of IAAS MENA (Middle East and North Africa). Very recently, we have successfully accomplished our webinar (in 3 sessions) entitled “Conventional & Advanced Plant Breeding” as IAAS Turkey. Presence of hundreds international agriculture students from 39 countries around the globe has pleased and motivated me and the committee members of IAAS Turkey. Different approaches in terms of plant breeding and steps to take to commercialize those traits and/or varieties were discussed by the expert scientists from Croatia, the UK, and the USA. And especially Q&A attract intensive attention by the students. Vlatko Galić (PhD) from Agriculture Institute of Osijek (Croatia) has given a lecture about the genetic resources in maize and some competition and conventional methods are discussed by Vlatko. Later. Then secondly, Dr. Abdellah Barakate from the James Hutton Institute (UK) has discussed manipulation of meiotic genes and some advanced approaches in terms of plant breeding. Finally, Allan Wenck (PhD) current president of the SIVB, working at BASF as Head of Trait Engineering, also has given a beneficial presentation on the topic of bringing traits to the world market and advanced plant breeding approaches. The unique contributions of the speakers are well appreciated and received by the students. Many students from almost 40 countries have learnt about conventional plant breeding, advanced plant breeding (especially CRISPR technology) and the process and manners to make the new bred species commodified in public.

Besides of my positions at IAAS, I am also serving to the Society for In Vitro Biology (SIVB) as Student Co-chair of Plant Biotechnology. SIVB is a professional society devoted to fostering the exchange of knowledge of in vitro biology of cells, tissues and organs from both plant and animals (including humans). The focus is on biological research, development, and applications of significance to science and society.

To see such genuine interest and support from the IAASers, motivation and dedication of my colleagues and my personal organization experiences from SIVB made it possible. We are better motivated and experienced. Commitment and will power are all matters to build the future strategic plans.

Sincerely,

Alperen Öztürk

1. UPLIFT MAHUWARI VILLAGE

17th of March 2021 (Offline, Mahuwari, Nepal)

Written by:

IAAS Nepal LC Paklihawa has launched the VCP "Uplift Mahuwari Village" with the aim to enhance the health and socioeconomic condition of the village. The project has been designed for the 26 months i.e. till 2023 and we have begun to work on it since the beginning of 2021. The first real-field program begun from 17th March 2021. Also, a fundraising program 'Dohori Saajh' an exclusively musical evening to support our project initiation was conducted. The program was conducted in collaboration with 4 other student organizations including: a) Agriculture Students' Liaison Forum (ASLF) Paklihawa b) Youth Red Cross Circle Network, Paklihawa c) One Health Nepal, Paklihawa d) Creative Veterinary Students Association (CVSA), Paklihawa.

Orientation about the Program The Program was started with the introduction about the Village Concept Project to the local people of the area. For the favorability of the language, a member from the same village helped us with the translation in their local language too. Everything was explained on how it was aimed for the improvement of the health and socio-economic condition of the 30 households of the village with the support of local bodies, VDC and rural municipality. In the program, there was the presence of Deputy Mayors, ward president and social workers too. 1. Sanitation Understanding the village condition, we undertook the sanitation program as our first program of the project. Initiating from the main roads and covering all those 30 households, we collected wrappers, plastics, etc. and cleaned using brooms. For this program, 3 brooms and 2 Cap Plastic Dustbins along with masks and gloves were bought for volunteers. Villagers really felt contented with all of these works

Namaste and warm greetings!

March marched with a lot of actions. From conducting meetings and trainings virtually, bringing VCP to life has been the first successful live event in IAAS Nepal. Village Concept project is actually taking its shape with every meetings and planning. We look forward to making VCP even more grand with collective support.

IAAS LC UNUD enjoy the sunday valentine by visited Pangsan Village on Sunday, February 14th 2021 which located in Petang, Badung. Our Village Concept Project in Pangsan Village is a work program carried out by IAAS LC UNUD as a dedication to the community. Pangsan is located in Petang, Badung, Bali, Indonesia. This village is further divided into 6 Traditional Villages, 9 Banjar Dinas and 6 Banjar Adat. The area that we have made as our guidance is the farmer association led by Pak Akita and there are also several Kelompok Wanita Tani (KWT). The Pangsan Village Tourism Object in Petang, Badung, Bali has a panoramic view of the village which is still very original. Providing a panoramic view of rice fields and has diversified plants, namely palawija.

Hello IAASer,

It's an honor from me can get a chance to share a monthly report from IAAS Indonesia. February is a special month because even though many LCs are going through a transition period, several work programs have been carried out well. I hope that the spirit and sense of kinship will remain so that we can continue to be together until the end.

Next, Garda Bramantyo from IOP 25 as our second speaker delivered the presentation on "Understanding Stocks and Mutual Funds". It was then followed by a Q & A session and training session. The training session involved us downloading and trying the application ourselves. They both delivered such a good presentation that will certainly benefit us later on. After the main event, the participants played a quiz that was held on Quizizz to test their knowledge on what they had learned today from the presentations. Finally, we reached the end of the event, I-Training was officially closed by the MC and ended with documentation session.

9. AGRIRANGER WORKSHOP by IAAS LC IPB

27th of February 2021 (Online, Zoom)

Written by: Luthfi Fachruddin

Agriranger Workshop was held with the theme "Be Children's Hero in the Pandemic Era." This workshop provides an opportunity for IAAS LC IPB members to get training about creative and adaptive learning for children especially during this pandemic era. The agenda was opened by MC Alda and Hega. Then, it continued with an opening speech from Anisa Amalia as the Project Leader of Agriranger Workshop, speech from Muhammad Shaquille Wildanwan as the Local Committee Director of IAAS LC IPB. Next, we had an introduction to Anisa Faujia as the moderator who will guide the workshop and the last but not least, the introduction of Nadyati Fazrin, Head of Competency Education Division in Kakak Asuh as the speaker who will give us a presentation that will certainly give us a lot of knowledge and share her great experiences. We learned together about an overview of education at elementary school level children during the pandemic, understand the characteristics of children and the impact on their education, discuss creative learning methods to provide their education and develop children's motivation in times of pandemic. After the presentation session, there was also a Q&A session which gave the opportunity to ask questions to better understand, share knowledge, and share experiences. Then, we continued with the most exciting agenda which was the Teaching Training Workshop which will be applied in teaching children. The workshop also includes games that are easy to do. Hopefully, Agriranger Workshop can improve the teaching skills of IAAS LC IPB members, especially prospective rangers. This is a very valuable moment that is useful for us to take a role for a better education! After the workshop was over, we had the submission of Token of Appreciation for the speaker by the Project Leader. Lastly, the agenda was closed with documentation of the participants and closing session by MC and recitation of prayers.

10. “GRAND OPENING” VCP

March 13th 2021 (Jatinangor, Indonesia)
Written by: Athhar Izaan Kautsar IAAS LC Unpad

VCP with KWT Malati Asih

This year, VCP 2021 focuses on producing and product launching. Furthermore, artisan tea will be lab tested to determine its nutritional content so that quality and suitability are guaranteed.

Currently KWT still need assistance from the VCP team due to the lack of information on KWT in business legality process (PIRT, BPOM, halal, etc.), proper roselle cultivation, product formulation, and preparation for dealing with external factors such as pandemic that has the potential to inhibits our activities. VCP team visit to Cinanjung Village was done after obtaining permission by implementing the health protocol.

Besides our collaboration with KWT Malati Asih, this year we also want to start a new step by starting the new collaboration with young people who are members of Taruna Karya in Cinanjung Village.

All of the members are enthusiastic about learning new things, many of them are still in high school so they are curious about everything. Actually, in past, they learned a lot about waste management in theory, but lack in actual practice. Now, they want some concrete action about waste management. So, VCP's team come up with idea: it's biopore. We choose this because they said that there are many potholes and will cause flooding when the rain comes. Other than that, the product of this biopore can be used as fertilizer and it can be sold. The Taruna Karya accept this idea and we both can't wait to make thar happen.

Our Plans :

a. Community Development

KWT can manage roselle independently, form roselle cultivation to post-harvesting, nutritional testing, business legality processes, product formulas, and product launching.

b. Education

KWT will learn business legalization process and has insight in waste management and biopores maintenance.

c. Agriculture and Environment

Assembling and installing biopores and also utilizing the yard to cultivative.

1. HELLO IAAS!

February 2021

Written by: Nasratullah Mateen

¡Hello familia IAAS! Through this note, we are pleased to announce Argentina as a candidate member to be part of the IAAS community. In this way, we formed an initial committee of 5 people: Fernando Marchisone (National Director), Ana Romero (National Coordinator of Exchange), Catalina Pansa (National Secretary), Celeste Clemente (National Coordinator of Communication) and Tomás Re (National Coordinator of Projects and Finance). We are students of the National University of Villa María and the National University of Córdoba, both located in the province of Córdoba (Argentina) and we belong to the Bachelor's degrees in Environment and Renewable Energies, Agronomic Engineering and Specialization in Extensive Crop Production.

We believe that Argentina is a country with a lot of cultural, social and environmental potential, and we are sure that we can work very well on issues of current interest to represent South America. We want to be able to support the organization in everything they need, organize national and international events and promote exchange between Argentina and the world.

In advance, we are very grateful for your initial support and willingness. If you have any suggestions or queries, do not hesitate to write to us at argentina@iaasworld.org and we will gladly respond.

In this way, we want to publicize both the national committee and the official logo of IAAS Argentina. We look forward to your support and count on us for whatever you need, greetings!

Greetings from IAAS Afghanistan!

Accept our warm regards from Kabul University, Kabul city of Afghanistan.

IAAS Afghanistan is a candidate member and we are very happy to have joined this great family. Currently, we are working on structuring our national committee in order to expand IAAS to local committees in near future.

We are committed and motivated to sustaining IAAS in Afghanistan so as to become a full member in later years. We aim to work on some scientific events with other committees in the AP region. Our team is planning extensively to fully structure our national committee, set goals, objectives and strategy to expand IAAS to Afghanistan universities.

Once again, we are so happy to have joined this wonderful family and wish to do the best we can.

Kind Regards,

Nasratullah Mateen
National Director

1. Key information about higher study in the USA

23 March 2021(Online, Google Meet)

Written by: Plabon Shaha

The USA is the dream country for students from where they want to complete their higher study. But most of them are not aware of how to manage scholarship in the USA or how to go there for completing their goals. Keeping that fact in our mind, we had tried to provide important pieces of information for achieving higher study opportunities in the USA through a webinar on “Key information about higher study in the USA”. The webinar was staged virtually and arranged by IAAS members of the JUST chapter. Nothing much left to mention about the webinar because it was a celestial session for the interested participants. The chief speaker of the webinar was TAHMINA HOSNA, EducationUSA Advisor in American Corner Khulna. She is much experienced and working with students for a long period of time. She had agreed to conduct the event out of the spirit of helping our registered participants. The event was designed to know about the USA scholarship, culture, environmental conditions. The event has also provided whereabouts how to easily obtain bursaries in the USA, the procedure for applying a bursary, the criteria for choosing a university, how to persuade teachers and much more. Around 60 participants had joined the webinar. There were some ups and downs in the number of participants because of the absence of internet access and bad networking condition. Another thing is, the webinar started with a marvelous presentation on “IAAS Bangladesh” by FATIMA MIM, one of the members from IAAS Bangladesh JUST unit. Which helped participants to know about the aims and objectives of the mentioned organization. The workshop went extremely well and the entire session exceeded everyone's expectations. Overall, it was a fantastic experience for all of the participants, and the program went off without a hitch, demonstrating the precision of IAAS Bangladesh JUST

Dear IAASer,

I hope you are doing very well. You will be pleased to know that in March 2021, IAAS Bangladesh has successfully organized a Workshop on “Key information about higher study in the USA.” This webinar was a great opportunity for the students who are interested to go abroad for higher study. The chief speaker delivered an excellent speech and described everything precisely and also motivated everyone a lot. The webinar has covered all necessary information to get a basic guideline for pursuing higher study in the USA. Total registered participants for contents were around 160. The program was arranged by our candidate local committee Jashore Science and Technology University. Due to pandemic situation some other program have postponed.

Best regards,

Written by: Martina

As you know, their activities are more oriented towards the world of food technologies, especially in the production of beer!

The beautiful days of February allowed the children to devote themselves to their hops grove.

Greetings from IAAS Greece,

During Christmas break changes have been made in the positions of our national team. In December the heads of the two local committees have met online to discuss a possible webinar in March. We are currently preparing this webinar by searching for a topic with the organizing team. This way we can all work together for our common cause which is agriculture and all of its aspects.

We believe that this webinar will motivate our members and our whole team to achieve even more accomplishments in our IAAS family during these hard times. We are hoping, staying optimistic and planning new things for the future that will help our communities, our universities and our own mindset. In this pandemic we are wishing everyone stays safe and well.

Best regards,

2. NEW MERCH, Wise Words of Croatian Folk

March 2021

Written by: Katarina

Our members gathered “old wise words” traditionally used among Croats. Since IAAS Croatia is blessed with members from different parts of the country, there are many interesting folk sayings which You can find on our new T-shirts. Meaning could be lost in translation, but some of them are:

“TAK IMAM TE RAD” = “I have you so gladly” (literal translation) or I love my City. This one you can hear from domestic people in the capital city, Zagreb. “POMALO” = Take it easy. This one is characteristic for coastal part of Croatia and it is used in many occasios. For example, when making plans, “Pomalo, we’ll figure that out”.

“FJAKA” = Rest. When you haven had lunch then you deserve to have “Fjaka” time. When you are chilling with your friends. “JEN GEMIŠT KAK I NIŠT” = One drink like none. This one is said in the Northern parts of Croatia, but other parts agreed to it and accepted it. Gemišt is name for half wine – half mineral water, Croats favorite!

Greetings from IAAS Croatia

Dear IAASer,

Let us know if You would like to learn more Croatian wise words.

In the name of IAAS Croatia, we greet you all and can't wait to see You soon!

Živjeli!

But after I joins IAAS, I realized the world is far more ahead than my limited circle. IAAS helped me to explore my qualities. I realized responsibility us, what increases rhe person ability.

IAAS made me believe in myself. IAAS gave me an opportunity to prove my worth. During my journey in IAAS, I never felt burdened rather I enjoyed my responsibilities.

During my journey, IAAS taught me to go beyond the boundaries. Believe in yourself, and explore what your true potential is.”

“It still feels like a dream, to be able to meet many people from around the world, discussed many topics, and most importantly, broaden my network from it.

WoCo 2018 was my first international event of IAAS that I have attended.

Other than increasing my organizational skill through workshops and General Assembly sessions, it also helped me to understand more bour different cultures around the world through connecting with all rhe delegates from 23 countries and also Croatia’s product and specialty through the excursions and supplementary programs

It is one of the most memorable memories that I have (if not the most) in my entire life, and I’m thankful for it. I hope IAAS could help more people to see the importance of collaboration between students in agriculture sector grows in the future.”

“Joining Expronas is one of the opportunities to do internships in places according to your passion, so the activities like internships at companies/centers, etc.

I went to Elders Bogor for my internship. I got acquired with other friends of another IAAS LC because of this internship.

The expronas event was not only about getting internship knowledge. But there is also welcoming party/ farewell party. So I had a lot of fun when I joined the expronas.”

HUMAN OF IAAS

Rifqy Rachmatta Assiry

“I was a person pessimistic, insecure person and didn’t really like to talk too much. I spend my time listening to music with earphones, reading books, and watching movies.

I decided to join IAAS because I wanted to develop my skills, increase my organization experience, and I challenged myself to make friends by socializing. However, IAAS changed my life.

I learned a lot in IAAS, my public speaking was improved, working as a team, and becoming a confident person. I also became a systematic and structured person who was always a mess before. IAAS is the perfect place to learn many things. IAAS always provides opportunities for its members to hone their abilities and skills.”

Eurike Junisha

“It is amazing that the first time I joined IAAS, I met a lot of inspirational people and friends that support me through IAAS. They also help me to realize things that I actually can do and gain my confidence to do more.

Then I encouraged myself to go to the next level in IAAS by joining the QB of Communication Team in IAAS, and wow, I met an exhilarating team.

Here, I also still made many mistakes, but it doesn’t hinder me from working harder. And now I am managing my team in my LC. Hope we can achieve our dream and get through any hardships together.

I will never regret joining IAAS. IAAS helps you to be who you are. Take a role in IAAS. Big changes start with small steps.”

Chadijah Aljufri

“A lifetime of memories and one of the coolest things I’ve ever done!

So far, it was the best 3 months of my life. I traveled alone, lived in a beautiful village, stayed with a very humble, kind and lovely family, living their life and gaining a lot of knowledge about their agricultural system and agribusiness.

I went to Germany alone and clueless. Then I came back home with a new family, many new friends, unforgettable experiences, thousands of stories and I also got to visit some amazing places.

It’s pretty hard to find this chance, but you can have this in IAAS.”

HUMAN OF IAAS

Ilyas Maarouf

“I really have enjoyed the IAAS atmosphere since I joined the first time. I got many benefits from training and courses that I have learned from, making me a better person

In IAAS World, the family feeling all the members gives me power and motivation every day.

I am learning, daily, from IAAS members all over the world, at the personal level as well as the professional level.”

Nizar El Mazouni

“Some ideology or a long-term vision does not drive my actions. But clearly, they seem coherent. The reason is all of them are the ultimate result of two engines: compassion and understanding.

Those very two brought me to IAAS> Experiencing human interactions and contributing to something bigger are the most stimulating experiences.

More technically now, something I learned from my finance experience is: there's always more than a way to do things. Money, for example, can be earned by contributions, sponsoring, profitable projects, and merchandising!” This is very promising idea that will be heard in the very near future.

Sp that would be my best advice: constantly thinking about ways to do things better. We often hear that the flapping of a butterfly's wings in Brazil gets off a tornado in Texas. The best way to make a change is by accumulating the efforts of intelligent people, that is the mission of all organizations, that is the missions of IAAS!”

Simone Ascione

“My life is not all pink and flowers, unfortunately, I have had so many traumas, and this has led me to have fight a disguised depression everyday

Guess what? On the last EDM, I met new people and other realities, whom I never discovered, never leaving my state and it lifted my spirits a bit.

With IAAS< I also learn more about Agriculture because my background is Agricultural and Forestry Sciences. It's amazing and amuses me!”
