PRESIDENT

Forewords!

Dear FamillIAAS,

It's been 4 months since our journey has started as the new EB. I have enjoyed every second that I spent while connecting with you all, talking and discussing about the betterment of our beloved IAAS.

These 2 months have been super busy and exhausting with conferences UNFCCC's COP29 in Baku, UNCCD's COP16 in Riyadh, 8th International Seed Conference in Antalya... Each one of these conferences has brought IAAS more opportunities and chances to expand our operations, partners and provide more and more opportunities to IAASers! Throughout these conferences, I wasn't walking alone. I had a huge support of my delegate colleagues, EBCB, and IAAS Advisory Board who kept motivating and helping me to know more about what all of these conferences about.

Next 2 months I will be more focused on IAAS Projects, IAAS Scientific Events and Expansion of IAAS while I keep following up with our new friends from the conferences!

VICE PRESIDENT OF EXTERNAL RELATIONS

Forewords!

Hello Famili IAAS,

The past two months have been a dynamic period for IAAS, filled with opportunities to represent youth voices, build connections, and foster innovation. I got a chance to led the IAAS delegation on COP 29 for week 1. This event was a platform to share youth-related agendas, highlight our perspectives on climate action, and advocate for meaningful inclusion in decision-making processes.

Another significant focus has been the exploration of new partnership opportunities. Engaging with various stakeholders at COP 29 and other UN conferences has not only strengthened existing relationships but also opened doors to collaborations with organizations that align with IAAS's mission. These follow-ups and new partnerships are essential for working together in our common shared goals.

Another primary responsibilities of VPER was to support the ICYD organizing team. As part of the event's foundational efforts, it was inspiring to witness and contribute to the seamless coordination and impactful discussions that shaped the conference in coming days.

As we reflect on these achievements, let's carry this momentum forward.

Principales retos

- Aumentar la interacción en plataformas menos activas.
- Diversificar el contenido.
- Algunos países tienen menor visibilidad en redes.
- La coordinación regional enfrenta desafíos por las diferencias de tiempo entre los países.
- Gestionar desafíos imprevistos que afectaron las actividades planificadas en redes sociales.
- Aumentar la relevancia en TikTok, adaptando contenido creativo y dinámico
