IAAS CROATIA

1. CroAGRO Fair

(5th - 8th of December) (Zagrebački Velesajam, Zagreb, Croatia)

We had our stand at the CroAGRO Fair - International Fair of Agriculture, Agricultural Equipment and Machinery. The fair gathers leading brands and companies from all sectors of agricultural production, giving visitors the opportunity to learn about the latest innovations and technologies, with a special emphasis on modern agricultural machinery, sustainable technologies and digital solutions. We are very happy to have gotten the chance to participate in one of the most important fairs for agriculture in Croatia and to be surrounded by innovations, inspiring people and agronomy lovers. At our stand, visitors of the fair could stop by and find out more about our Association and our projects and meet our members!

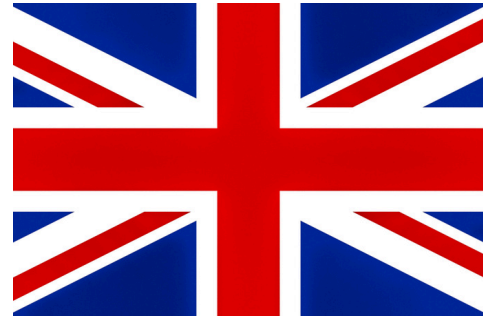

2. AgroAdvent - Faculty of Agriculture's Christmas Market

(December 12th)(Faculty of Agriculture, University of Zagreb)

AgroAdvent is a unique Christmas Market held every December at our Faculty of Agriculture in Zagreb and it is organized by the students of the Faculty. On AgroAdvent, students and people from all over Croatia present products from their family farms; from fresh fruits and vegetables, olive oil, cheese, pasta and flour, to beverages and natural cosmetics. All profits from the Christmas Market are donated to the needy. This year (same as last year), IAAS Croatia had a bake sale on the AgroAdvent, selling the cakes made by our members!

IAAS ECUADOR

1. Global Projects Competitions Submissions

December, Ecuador and Digital Platforms

This year we did not want to miss the opportunity to participate and share what we have been doing in our country and in our territories. We submitted two very interesting projects: one was about a bank of seeds specifically located in an indigenous community and the other was about making compost in a rural community in the Andean Choco. Both projects include members of IAAS and the National Board, we are very motivated to keep up with these activities no matter the results of the competition, still we are looking forward to hear about the winners and share all the accomplishments made.

2. ExCo Meeting: 1st Call closing and 1st Informative session

(December, Digital Platforms)

After December 6, the applications form for the event closed and with almost 80 interested iaas'ers we closed this phase.

After choosing the best profiles and distributing the spots we chose 30 people and sent them their acceptance letters. In the end, 8 people confirmed their spots by paying the fee. We also held a meeting on December 16 to inform about the agenda, situation of the country and details that might be of interest to the participants. This also makes us plan ahead and aim for the next call and the participants that we need to bring to our event.

3. New Meeting with Provincial Government

December 18. Quito-Ecuador

Working towards a great event and experience, we keep asking and negotiating with fellow organizations and institutions that might bring benefits or sponsorships to our participants in many aspects such as tourist attractions, accommodation and ideally transportation. This brought us closer to our goals as we formalized our requirements with documents that bring us closer to the final agreement.

IAAS NEPAL

1. IAAS Nepal Podcast

(December 7th, 2024)

4. From Baku to Nepal: Mirroring COP 29

(December 25th ,2024)

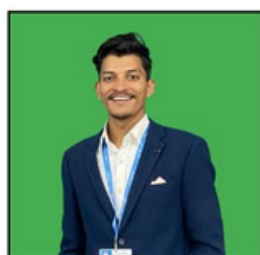

We had the privilege of hosting an insightful session with our guest speaker, Prem Budhathoki, the Vice President of External Relations for IAAS 2023/24. During this engaging discussion, we delved into several critical topics, including youth representation, agriculture negotiations, and IAAS achievements at COP 29. He highlighted the role of young people in influencing and driving impactful changes in agriculture at international platforms. His session also shed light on IAAS's significant contributions at COP 29, discussing how the organization has been actively involved in advocating for sustainable agricultural practices and representing youth voices on the global stage. This session provided our members with a deeper understanding of the complexities of agricultural diplomacy and the essential role youth must play in future global conversations.
